Chris Awre:	University of Hull	Is that poster artwork from the conference available?
Suzy Fisher:	UWTSD	How do you access the Green Libraries Network?
Noura Mokhtar:	SCONUL	yvonne.morris@cilip.org.uk
Hilary Johnson:	The Open University	Are the universities who've signed the manifesto already a mixture of Russell and post-1992 etc? And across the nations?
Alison Charlesworth:	University of Leicester	Hi. I was wondering why the Green Libraries week takes place in at the beginning of October. For a lot of Academic Libraries that's one of their busiest times dealing with new and returning students. So they may not have the capacity to join in.

26 June 2024, 10:00 – 11:30hrs

Katherine Beers:	University of nottingham	Sorry my mic won't unmute. I just wanted to say that I really like the self declaration because I've been wondering whether as an instution we can join when we are early on in the process and don't really have our plan in place. We would join as a Sowing the Seeds
Zsofia Buda:	John Rylands Library, University of Manchester	Can university libraries join at this point then? And is the Uni of Manchester Library a member already?
SitMui Ng:	SCONUL	https://www.cilip.org.uk/page/GreenLibraries
Beverley Hughes:	University of Exeter	Is there any evidence of benefits of digital or print, purchase or ILL?
Jessica Taylor:	The Open University	Perhaps the timing of Green Libraries Week could coincide closer to the Conference?
Hilary Johnson:	The Open University	List of unis is here: https://www.cilip.org.uk/page/GreenLibrariesManifesto
Simon Dixon:	University of Leicester	Are similar initiatives taking place elsewhere in the world? We've made lots of use of the Finnish Libraries infographics!
Diane Job:	The University of Birmingham	This is what I mentioned in my question https://greenimpact.nus.org.uk/
